*If an institution changes a link, just do a Google search.

Researching Scholarship Opportunities:

Helpful Hints

- Start researching scholarship options during grade 11 as the scholarship process begins early in your grade 12 year.
- Begin volunteering on a regular basis as many scholarships require a strong/consistent history of involvement as part of the eligibility.
- Each award has unique criteria. You may have to complete an essay and/or provide school transcripts and references.
- Consider a variety of smaller scholarships/awards as they may attract fewer applicants.
- Have an updated resume and cover letter, that you can change for a specific scholarship.
- Dedicate a specific time each week for your scholarship research.
- Pay close attention to application deadline date/time, particularly if sending hardcopy documents.

Names of Scholarships/Awards:

Post-Secondary Institution Scholarship Options

These scholarships are contingent on accepting the offer of admission for that specific institution. The applications for these scholarships may be:

- Automatic (you are not required to submit a separate scholarship application) such as an Entrance Award
- General scholarship application may be required.
- Faculty specific (e.g., only for Engineering students)
- Nominated (each school may nominate a limited number of students)
- Based on financial need (bursary)

Association and Community Scholarship Options:

Many groups offer scholarship/bursary opportunities to high school students such as unions, clubs, businesses, associations, organizations and so on. Students should consider their individual situation to see if any opportunities are available through their skills, involvement, or family. Criteria for each of these opportunities varies including artistic ability, academic performance, community service, leadership, athletics, financial need, etc.

Find a Match Websites - Create an account to have opportunities sent to you.

Some websites will match a student with a variety of awards in their database. Register online for this option at:

Tuition Waiver Program - Former Youth in Care (British Columbia)

The BC Ministry of Advanced Education, Skills, and Training (AEST) in conjunction with the Ministry of Children and Family Development (MCFD) have announced a tuition waiver program for former British Columbia youth in care who wish to attend any public post-secondary school in BC. Students must apply for admission at the school of their choice, self-identify as a former youth in care to that school, and complete a declaration form to be considered for the government tuition waiver program.
