CORE COMPETENCIES

As a part of the implementation of the new curriculum, the BC Ministry of Education has identified three core competencies that are evident in every area of learning. Core competencies are sets of intellectual, personal, and social and emotional proficiencies that all students need to develop in order to engage in deep learning and life-long learning. Students have been introduced to the communication, thinking and personal and social competencies in their classes and as the school year progresses, students will have multiple opportunities in their classes to become more familiar with how they relate to their learning. At the end of the school year, students will complete a self-assessment of the three core competencies. It will be sent home with students so that parents will be able to review it with their child.

Back by popular demand! The Richmond School District and the Richmond District Parents' Association invite you to a FREE screening of the Sundance-selected educational documentary, Most Likely to Succeed.

About the Film:

Most Likely to Succeed examines the history of education, in the United States, revealing the growing shortcomings of conventional education methods in today's innovative world. The film explores compelling new approaches that aim to revolutionize teaching as we know it. After seeing this film, the way you think about "school" will never be the same.

The world is changing. Parents want their children ready to succeed in the 21st Century. So do educators. That's why it's critical that we transform our education system, designed over a century ago so that it reflects the goals of the New BC Curriculum: Building Student Success. <https://curriculum.gov.bc.ca>
